

Zanzibar – info sheet

Some of our clients after their of climb Kilimanjaro like to travel to Zanzibar, which is a fantastic location for some rest and relaxation.

If you are keen to do this it is self organised, which is easily done online and makes it cheaper for you. Below are some tips and hotel options.

Travel Options

You can either fly from Kilimanjaro Airport with Precision Air (estimate $180 each way) or catch a bus to Dar es Salaam (8hrs) and then take the boat to Zanzibar which takes just over 1 hour.

The luxury bus fare is $25 per person from Moshi to Dar es Salaam. A taxi from the Bus station in Dar es Salaam to the sea port is $15 and the speed boat from Dar es Salaam to Zanzibar is $35 per person. Please note that the most luxurious buses depart Moshi at 8am and take 8 or 9 hrs. This causes you to overnight in Dar es Salaam however there are some less luxurious buses that depart Moshi at 6.00am and arrive around 1 or 2pm in time to catch the speed boat to Zanzibar the same day. These buses are not as high a standard and cost $20 per person. If you need a private transfer then a car will cost $450 and $650 by land cruiser. All bus trips can be booked by our staff in Moshi, you just need to request Castro (our office manager) to do so and pay him before your climb of Kilimanjaro.
